Canada's Role in the World - Part Two

A Macdonald-Laurier Institute poll

Methodology

- ▶ Survey of 1,023 Canadians conducted using an online national representative sample.*
 - ▶ Margin of error is +/- 3.1%, for the national sample, but larger for sub-groups.
- ▶ The survey was conducted in both English and French.
- ▶ Data was collected between September 28th and 30th, 2020.
- ▶ Results have been weighted by region, age, gender, language most often used at home and past federal vote using the most recent census data.

*This poll was done in partnership with the Konrad Adenauer Foundation. MLI also used the services of One Persuades for the polling.

International Knowledge Score (IKS)

- ▶ In order to understand the impact of knowledge of foreign affairs and familiarity with the world outside of Canada on how respondents view Canada's place in the world and various policy issues we created the International Knowledge Score (IKS).
- ▶ The IKS is a combination of two equal factors:
 - ▶ Amount of travel outside of Canada, with extra weight for travel beyond North America and the Anglosphere.
 - ▶ Knowledge of international news using two events as tests - the signing of the Abraham Accords and the 2019 UK election.
- ▶ The IKS is measured using a score between 0 and 10. 0 means having no knowledge or exposure to the world beyond Canada and 10 means having deep knowledge of and extensive exposure to the rest of the world.

IKS Insights

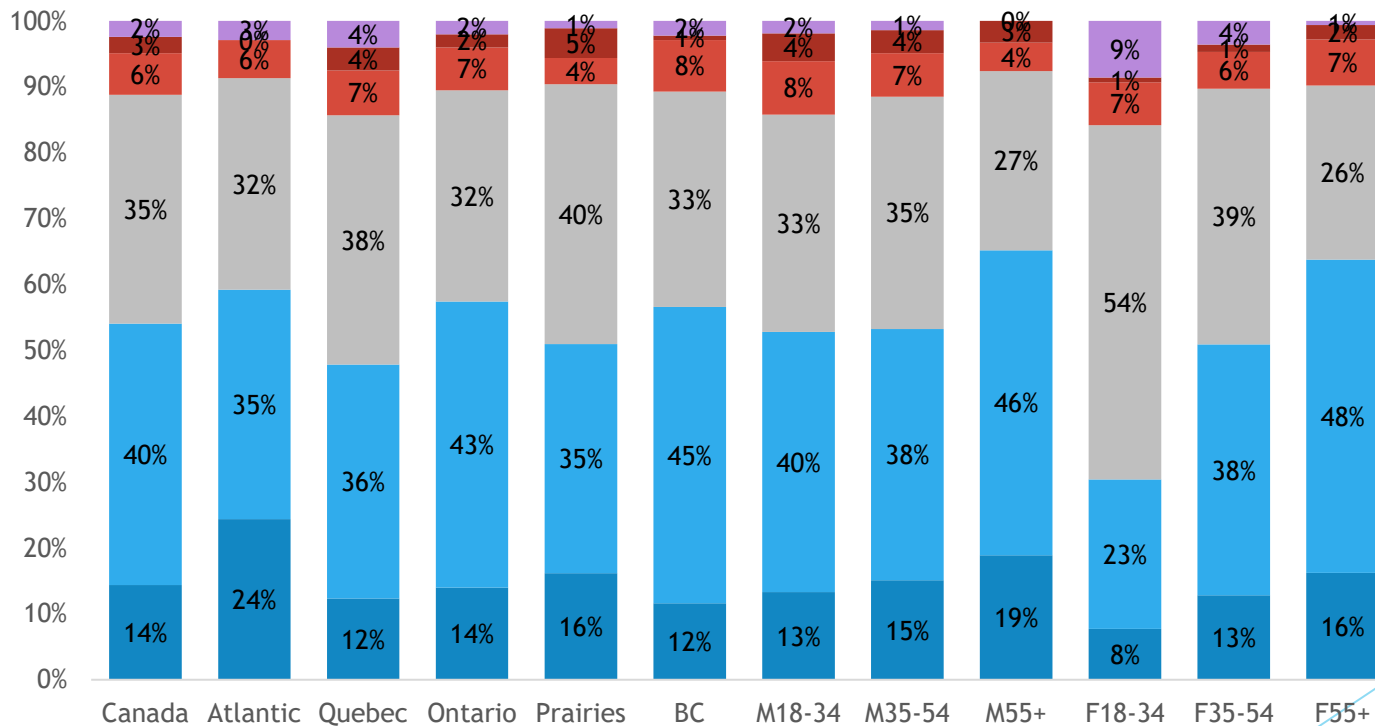

- ▶ It would be expected that IKS rises with education, which it does, but higher income is actually a better prediction of IKS than higher education alone.
- ▶ Men generally have a higher average IKS than women and older people more than younger people (despite low education levels among older Canadians).
- ▶ People who immigrated to Canada themselves have higher IKS than Canadians who have lived in this country for generations.
- ▶ While Liberal voters have a higher IKS than Conservatives, the gap is reasonably small. NDP voters have significantly lower scores.
- ▶ People who say that foreign policy is very important to their voting decision do have higher IKS than those who say foreign policy is not important, but there are segments with higher IKS.
 - ▶ This means that there are statistically significant numbers of Canadians who are well-informed on international affairs but are not “Foreign Policy Voters.”
- ▶ Regionally, IKS is highest in BC and Ontario. It is lowest in Quebec.
